

RSI to re-roof two buildings at La Jolla Village Center

RSI Roofing of San Diego has signed a contract with Madison Marquette to re-roof the Bank of America and Whole Foods buildings located in the La Jolla Village Center. RSI will be installing a white-reflective GAF Single-ply 60-mil TPO system which will help reflect heat entering the building, while reducing energy costs. The RSI Roof Maintenance Division will also be performing roof maintenance over eight different buildings in the shopping center. The total contract amounts to over $100,000. “This is an extremely busy shopping center and we are taking extra measures so that we will not inconvenience the customers or the tenants during the re-roofing and maintenance process,” David Susi –president, RSI Roofing.
